

DINE AT BODHI FARMS' MONTANA FARM TO TABLE FOOD FESTIVAL

For an intimate gathering revolving around exceptional food, buy your tickets early to attend the Montana Farm to Table Food Festival at Bodhi Farms, a working permaculture farm and eco-resort outside of Bozeman. Every year in July, they curate exceptional chefs to showcase local foods and forward-thinking regional producers. Basking in the joy of the height of the summer under outdoor canopies, guests enjoy live music and the pastoral backdrop of this beautiful farm with stunning views of the Gallatin mountains. It is an opportune time to sample the specialties of these exceptional chefs working with foods at the height of freshness and quality. With a sustainable agricultural model, taking care of the land results in incredible produce that takes center stage at the Montana Farm to Table Food Festival.

13624 S Cottonwood Rd.
bodhi-farms.com

TIP

Even if you cannot attend Bodhi Farms' Farm to Table Food Festival, you can join them for their Thursday evening Farm Parties or Sunday Brunch, both of which feature live music.